Author's response to reviews:

Please accept the following submission which contains various revisions that have been performed in order to respond to formatting changes that were requested by the BioMed Central Editorial Production Team.

- all authors affiliations have been updated to reflect the format requested
- the abstract in the submission system is now identical to the abstract found within the manuscript
- a discussion section has been added to the abstract (changed in both the submission system and in the abstract)
- the word Discussion was added before the section titled Safety Issues (page 16) in order to reflect this section as requested
- Authors Contributions has been changed to Authors' Contributions, and a sentence has been added to the end of the section which states 'All authors have read and approved the final manuscript.'
- Reference 35 has been formatted to reflect the changes requested in order to extract properly
- A sentence has been added to the Acknowledgements section which states 'The team would also like to thank Sarah Norwood for her contribution in the preparation of the manuscript.'

We wish to thank you in advance for accepting these revisions.
